Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Ozarks

At CoxHealth, we believe when it comes to caring for the community, actions do speak louder than words. And Eric Burlison's actions do speak loud. Eric, a programmer/analyst, volunteers for Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Ozarks. Eric is a role model for a team of programmers he collaborates with and for his little brother. He and his little brother volunteer at Camp Barnabas, attend Springfield Cardinals games and hike trails. Pursuing a college education had never entered his little brother's mind, until Eric introduced him to this possibility by visiting campus ministries and a campus coffee house. But Eric went one step further, and is teaching his little brother graphic design and Web site programming. The skills and opportunities Eric shares will make a difference in his little brother's future.
